

CoCo Hanson

November 24, 2016 - April 27, 2024

You came into my life by accident. You weren't even supposed to be mine, but you stole my heart and I couldn't let you go. You have been the joy in my life for 7 short years. We should have had 10 more. We were going to travel the country after I retired. Everyone loved you. You were so sweet and smart, but you were my fierce little protector too. I couldn't go to sleep at night until you were curled up next to me under the covers. It is hard to sleep now without you. Your sweet little face and kisses awakened me every morning. I will miss you every day, until we meet again. I hope you are running with your buddy Memurs now. Rest in Peace my sweet baby Coco. You will always be my "Little Un".
