“ Dear Leo, you were such a wonderful dog, to my cousins, to my parents, to my sister. Even when we were in sadness, you came to comfort us, When you sensed somebody was at the door, you barked to protect us. Even in pain, you still were able to comfort us, even if you weren't able to do stuff you used to. That is what makes you strong. You are the best dog. Every time I came home, you would surprise me everytime I walked through that door. You would go outside with me as I practiced soccer in the backyard, and when papa would make food outside, you were always there for me. You were truly, the best dog I've ever seen. You are the strongest dog I've ever seen. You pushed through the pains, as they never stopped you from comforting us. You've been with me since I was even born, You were a one of a kind dog, I hope your in peace now with Lucky.

“ My dog was a weird dog but I loved him. He loved to play ball outside and sleep like a human in a bed being tucked in. He was the strongest cockapoo I’ve ever known and has been with me for most of my 18 years of living. - your best friend
