

Margie Rose Rybarczyk

June 2, 2020 - August 12, 2024

Margie Rose “Marge” joined our family during unprecedented times when the world was shut down. She instantly brought light when the world was dark. Margie entered our homestead with such energy and personality, instantly marking her domain. She was loved by all, and in return she provided each one of us with unconditional love. Margie loved being around everyone, and for being just five pounds, often found herself as the center of attention. Whether sitting in front of her fan, sleeping under a bed, hanging out in the sunroom, or sprawled out in the family room with a fire in the background, she was happy as she could be. We mourn the loss of a pet, a family member and a great friend to each of us. Her stature was small but the void she leaves is immense. It breaks our hearts that she was taken so young and so quickly, but the love and attention she received filled a lifetime beyond the four years she was with us. She was our world and will always live in our hearts and memories. We love you Margie Rose! Rest in Peace, and watch over us when you aren’t busy bunning around.

Love,

Regan, Julie, Natalia, Isabella, Ava, Wilson and CeCe

“ My Margie Rose ..." my margie for life " who was taken from us far too soon. She was my beautiful bun soul and my sweet angel full of love, comfort & cuddles. I will miss our Jewel, Ikea & Target runs more than you will ever know sweet bun. You were my daily dose of love and engrained in my every day. I will continue to plant all your favorite lettuces in your memory...I will be missing you so, so much my love. Rest sweet my Margie Rose💕🐰💕

“ I recall the first time I begged my parents to get a bunny and they said absolutely not. I was so persistent in making sure we got one, and after hours of convincing they gave in and agreed to get her. The days leading up to get her were exciting especially since my best friend was getting margie’s twin sister rosie. My mom and my friend anna and her mom went on a fun vacation to pick up our little marge and it was some of the most fun I had ever had. When we had come to pick her up the carrier had told her another bunny had bitten her eye and was in critical condition in the hospital, I was absolutely devastated and cried the whole way home. I was upset when my best friend carried her bunny home and I couldn’t. After a successful surgery and journey I knew from day one Margie rose was one tough cookie. The day we came to pick her up was one of the best days of my life. She was so sweet and cuddly and I will never forget that day. I woke up early the next morning to play with her and my dad came upstairs to tell me to put her back so it wouldn’t start any bad habits. Well it kind’ve did because every morning she was so eager to get out of her play pen that we used to have her in before she started free roaming and was always to energetic in the morning. Margie wasn’t only my second half, but one of the best friends I could ever ask for. After a bad test she would come over and cuddle me to make me feel better, because she could just tell when something was off with you. I think my parents became some of her biggest fans in the world. My dad loved feeding her in the mornings even though she would chase and bite his ankles to get her food. He would cuddle and hang out with her after my two older sisters left town for school. My mom was absolutely obsessed with margie and she is now one of the biggest bunny people I have ever met. Always cuddling her and getting her treats with other houses/ tunnels, you name it. She even ended up joining a bunny group to keep on her knowledge with buns and our other bunny we had bought because of how much we loved marge. Margie and cece couldn’t be together without a little fight, but every night they would meet face to face by the gate in which our family called “ the bunny standoff”. When Margie left our family on August 12th a little bit of everybody left that day as well. From the beginning

I knew she was a fighter even in her last moments. Margie you will forever be in my heart and not a day that goes by that I won't think about you and wish that you were here. Thank you for making not only my life, but every person that met you even better than it was before ❤️❤️

“ My Margie Rose was my best friend and my entire world. She lived in my room and provided me so much comfort, joy, and happiness. She and I had a bond like no other. She was one of those pets , that just understood me and loved me no matter what. She was like a person to me in the way that she was so observant of me and my emotions. Margie Rose looked after me when I was recovering from a rough surgery this summer, and would sit on the pillow next to me on my bed and watch me to make sure I was okay. Most nights I would also make it a habit to sleep on my beanbag, since she loved when I was next to her. She would make it a mission to repay my efforts, by mimicking my sleeping positions every night to show me how very much I meant to her. She and I loved nothing more than cuddling together. I will miss her each and every day for the rest of my life. Marge was my love, my world, and my best friend. Life will never be the same without her here, but I know she will always have my back and be watching over me from above □ □
