

Sage Hanson

February 23, 2007 - December 9, 2024

Sagie, you were my only foster failure, my tough little Tennessee street dog. You had the kindest, sweetest personality. You welcomed every new dog to the pack. I was only blessed with a portion of your life, since you were old and grey when you came to me. How you loved your squeaker toys! You were so excited when I bought you a new one. You loved to ride in the car, especially when there were french fries! I am happy that had your final ride, with fries, on the day you left me. I will miss you so much, my constant shadow. Now you can run and play with your pals. Until we meet again my Angel.
