

Scooby Hanson

December 23, 2008 - August 14, 2025

Scooby, you were my "best boy". You were so handsome and such a perfect gentleman, by far the best behaved of all my dogs. You were always my "good boy". I will never forget the day I met you. You were so fierce despite your tiny stature! I couldn't help but fall in love with you. The last few years weren't easy for you, learning to live as a blind and deaf dog. You were so brave, learning to find your way around. Sometimes, I would find you stuck in a corner sleeping. You were so adorable. I was so lucky to have you by my side for 16 years. I will miss your bark that awakened me every morning. I hope you found your buddy Memurs. Until we meet again my precious boy.
